

COME follow ME

WEEK OF MARCH 29, 2026

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE: MARK 11:1-11

1. Prepare My Heart

Before writing, take a moment to slow down.

Pray "Jesus, as I come to you today, quiet the noise around me and within me. Slow me down so I don't rush past this moment. Help me to see you clearly—not as I expect you to be, but as you truly are."

What distractions or noise do I need to set aside right now?

2. What is Jesus revealing about himself in this week's Bible reading?

Jesus reveals that he is a King—but not like any other king.

He comes with humility, not force. He enters with peace, not power. He is worthy of praise, yet he knows the road ahead leads to the cross.

What stands out to me about Jesus in this moment?

3. Repent (Where might my expectations be shaping my faith?)

Have I been expecting Jesus to meet my needs on my terms?

Have I been more focused on what I want from him than who he truly is?

Pray "Jesus, I confess where I have misunderstood you or tried to control the outcome. Help me release my expectations and trust your way."

4. Believe (What truth do I need to trust this week?)

Jesus, I believe you are the true King—even when your ways are unexpected.

I believe your humility is not weakness, but strength.

I trust that you are working in ways I may not fully see or understand.

What is one truth about Jesus I need to hold onto this week?

5. Follow (What next step is Jesus inviting me to take?)

Where is Jesus inviting me to follow him—not just in celebration, but in surrender?

What is one area where I can say, "Your will, not mine"?

I don't want to be someone who praises him only when it's easy.

How can I stay close to Jesus this week—even if the path is difficult or unclear?

6. Weekly Surrender Prayer

Jesus, You are the King I need—even when you are not the King I expect. Teach me to follow you with humility, trust, and surrender. As I enter this Holy Week, help me stay close to you—not just in praise, but in faithfulness. Help me to see you in a new way.

Amen.
